Concerns and interests:

For years, I feel the VELB / ELACTA personally very grateful. Especially the work as a lecturer for the Institute enriched my life. Collaboration with colleagues is interesting and instructive. I am an avid networker and I am always delighted on the energy that is released when enthusiastic people working together. With enthusiasm, I dedicate myself to the topic breastfeeding, bonding, and early childhood development. It is a particular concern to me to establish breastfeeding expertise in all professional groups who work in the field of health promotion and prevention activities, but also in fields of work of the early social education.

I am a sociable and communicative person and I would be glad if my talents could be a benefit to the European Union.
